Trial Told Guard Sang To Muffle Beating Cries

By Art White

Stars and Stripes Staff Writer

LONDON, Jan. 21.—The cries of a Negro prisoner being beaten in the Lichfield guardhouse and the noise of the blows were drowned out by a guard singing the "Indian Love Call," the guard, T/5 Ellis D. Adcock, testified today. Adcock, one of the defendants in the Lichfield trial, said other guards brought Pvt. Joseph Mallory to his office for the beating. While the other guards beat Mallory, Adcock, who was duty sergeant, sang the "Indian Love Call" and two other songs to cover up the sound.

Volunteered Evidence

Questioned by Capt. Earl J. Carroll, assistant prosecutor, Adcock admitted that he lied to Lt. Col. Lawrence W. Varner, an IG investigator, who went to Lichfield to probe charges of mistreatment to prisoners.

Adcock declared he was instructed by Maj. Richard E. LoBuono, former Lichfield provost marshal, and 1/Lt. Granville Cubage, former prison officer, now awaiting trial, to tell Varner that no one was beaten up or mistreated at the guardhouse.

Adcock said that Cubage had told jailers that the guardhouse was not tough enough and ordered them to be rougher on the men, stand them up against the wall, doubletime them, and "rough them up."

Adcock told the court that a "Sgt. Nunes," who is not among the accused, informed two Negro prisoners: "You are going to dig your own graves," and made them dig for about 20 minutes.

"When I spoke to him about it," Adcock said, "Nunes replied: 'Oh, Hell! I'm just having a little fun.'"

Congress to Get Leave Pay Plan

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 (AP) .-Congressional action on a bill providing lump-sum terminal leave payments for Army and Navy enlisted men and women will be sought next week.

Rep. Robert L. F. Sikes (D-Fla,), chairman of a House subcommittee which has held hearings on eight similar bills, said the full military committee would be asked to ap-prove a draft Tuesday entitling all enlisted men to a maximum of 120 days' pay

Congress Gets Truman Views

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 (UP) .-

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 (UP).—
President Truman asked Congress today for a budget of $35.860,000,000 in a combination budget and State of the Union message.

The President said it would be necessary to extend the Selective Service law beyond its expiration date of May 15 if the campaign for volunteers does not produce enough men to maintain an armed force—including Army, Navy and Air Force—of 2,000,000 men.

Concerning the touchy subject of demobilization, he asserted that nine out of every ten men who were in the armed forces on VJ-Day would be out by the end of June, 1946.

Other Proposals

The President warned against any increases in taxes, terming such proposals "ill adviced." He also proposed:

1—Rent and price controls through June, 1947. 2—Food subsidies to prevent price increases.

3-Extension of the War Powers Act to continue priorities and equitable distribution of scarce materials.

4—Admission of Hawaii and Alaska to statehood.

The President renewed his proposal for settlement of labor disputes by setting up fact-finding boards to prevent strikes when collective bargaining, conciliation and voluntary arbitration fail.

Discussing the requirements of the armed forces, the President said: "Our national safety and security of the world will require substantial armed forces, particularly in overseas service." He said the governing factor now has become "requirements for troops in sufficient strength to carry out come "requirements for troops in sufficient strength to carry out their missions.

ATHENS, Jan. 21.-Two rugged little Balkan nations-Greece and Albania—are squared off in a bitter test of nerves and diplomacy that is loaded with potential armed conflict over the "Northern Epirus" question.

Officially the Albanian government has announced that it will not "yield an inch of territory" to any nation without fighting. This announcement by Premier Enver Hoxha was made in a direct reference to claims by Greece on portions of Albania which Greeks call "Northern Epirus" and which the Albanians describe as "Southern Albanian."

Ethnic Claim Filed

The only official Greek action has been to file a claim based on ethnic, historical and cultural ethnic, historical and cultural grounds with the big powers. The Greeks assert they only want "justice" in the disposition of their claim. Recently more than 100,000 Greeks, assembling in Constitution Square to protest the recognition of the Hoxha regime by the Allies, shouted in unison "We will fight" over the Epirus issue.

Europe Claims OnLooted Gold 700 Millions

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 (AP).—Government officials, it was disclosed today, estimate European Allied claims against Germany for restitution of looted gold at some $700,000,000, of which something less than $300,000,000 has been recovered. covered.

These facts became known here in connection with the Allied agreements recently concluded at an 18-nation conference in Paris on German reparations.

Officials said "every effort" was being made to recover the remain ing gold, but that investigation and acquisition of the stolen wealth has been "extremely difficult."

Neutrals' Refusals

One of the main reasons, they said, lay in the refusal of neutral countries like Sweden. Switzerland, Spain and Portugal to permit Allied entry and seizure of these "hid-den" German-looted assets.

Such action is now being sought under a title-vesting decree passed by the Allied Control Council in Germany, Oct. 30. 1945. authorizing seizure of German government and private property alike—a move being resisted by the neutrals on grounds that it impugns their national sovereignty.

More than 3,000 spectators watched the 39-year-old links vet sink a six-foot putt on the final green to win his first major tourney since the 1938 Kansas City Open.

When he walked down the eighteenth fairway he needed a birdie four on the 487-yard hole to win. His second shot stopped 75 yards from the green. His niblick put a backspin on the ball that stopped it after a six-foot roll over the hole. Byrd and Fry, finishing earlier in the day, already had tied for the lead at 281. One of Penna's playing partners, Hogan, came out of a trap and knocked in an eight-footer for a 68 that also deadlocked him at 281.

'Smokey'-Who Loves Opera

By Joe Mackey Stars and Stripes Staff Writer

MARSEILLE, Jan. 21.—If anybody finds a black and brown terrier-type mongrel that likes opera, especially "La Tosca," Pfc Robert Beal, switchboard operator at the 227th Gen. Hosp. here, would like to hear about it.

The dog went for a walk Saturday night and hopped on the pass-truck to Marseille. One of Beal's buddies said that he was last seen in the Marseille Opera House attentively listening to the last act of "La Tosca."

Beal, a 49-pointer from Louisville, Ky., picked him up as a pup at Camp Philadelphia, Mourmelon, some months ago, christened him "Smokey" and has saved $40 to send him to the U.S. On Saturday, for the first time in weeks, he removed Smokey's identification collar, so the only way he can be identified now is by two brown spots over his eyes, a white chest, and a liking for GIs, French girls, movies, dances and high-class music. Beal said that at musicales Smokey always showed interest in the classical numbers.

U.S. May Need Demob Ships To Keep Draft, Soon to Have Surplus Space

By Robert Marshall and Joe Harvey

Stars and Stripes Staff Writers FRANKFURT, Jan. 21.—Redeployment shipping capacity now exceeds requirements, and ships will soon be leaving with less than full passenger loads, Brig. Gen. George S. Eyster, USFET redeployment chief, announced today.

This surplus space, he explained, will give elasticity to redeployment shipping. If operating delays cause changes in ship schedules the extra space will be used to take up the space will be used to take up the slack and move homeward-bound troops according to schedule.

"Under-berthing some ships will not make much difference to the individuals aboard." Eyster commented. "When fewer than a norma! complement is put aboard any ship, the only difference to the individual will be, for example, a reduction in the length and number of mess lines, or letting some of the less comfortable accommodations go unused."

Libertys Out Soon

Troops will not be able to count on being returned to the U.S. on under-berthed ships within the next few weeks, according to the redeployment chief.

Eyster also announced that Liberty ships soon would be dropped from redeployment runs, principally because they are very slow. Libertys will be used in the future only when absolutely necessary, he said.

Two categories of shipping will remain in the redeployment picture—Victory ships converted into troop carriers and troop transports, either built for the purpose or converted passenger liners.

Weeding Out Started

Eyster reported that the Man-power Liquidation Board to weed out surplus personnel in the ETO has begun its work.

Commenting on recent reports that 45-pointers are being shipped from the Mediterranean Theater, Eyster said redepolyment there, as in the Pacific, was ahead of ETO redeployment because there were fewer troops in that are redeployment because there were fewer troops in that area.

He also pointed out that neither the Mediterranean or the Pacific theaters face large-scale close-out programs in the liberated countries, as does the ETO. The need for rapidly liquidating installations in friendly countries, he said, is a limiting factor on the speed with which troops can be released in Europe.

(With the nation's meat supplies dwindling fast, a Federal official said yesterday that the government saw little hope of avoiding seizure and government operation of the struck meat-packing industry.)

Sailors in Picket Lines To Be Seized, Navy Says

NEW YORK, Jan. 21 (AP).—The Third Naval District said today that Navy personnel on active dut that Navy personnel on active duty would not be allowed on picket lines, and that any member of the Navy found picketing should "be taken out of the picket line and returned to his duty station."

Earlier, Jay Lewis, executive director of the Independent Citizens League of New York, had protested the action of the shore patrol in Newark, N. J., in taking a man wearing part of a Navy uniform out of a picket line at the Westinghouse Electric Company plant Saturday.

Pickets are shown massing before the main gate of a GM plant at Flint,
